

Would you have labeled more than 200 commits, if the authors would have been ordered randomly instead of by the number of commits labeled?

